Biotech Insurance

In 2002 Honan's formed the Biotech and Life Science division, with dedicated staff in all our offices servicing various biotech, life science and pharmaceutical companies and their supporting consultants such as IP lawyers, regulatory bodies, venture capital companies and private equity investors.

At Honan through our extensive industry relationships, have found the Biotech and Life Sciences Industry has limited options of potential insurance companies that can underwrite your specialist needs. We have also found that you have even fewer insurance brokers with adequate experience and understanding of your needs from which to choose.

Our knowledge of start up firms, capital raisings via IPO on the ASX, listed companies, investment income models that are dealing with new and emerging ideas where revenue streams often follow some time later on creates the need for clients to deal with Insurance Brokers who understand these risks.

Honan views its relationship with our clients very much as a partnership. We believe that it is important that our clients have a direct and on-going involvement with their Insurance Company and we actively foster and encourage these relationships.

Honan is able to provide a full range of Insurance Services via a high level of duly quality personnel whose expertise in the field of life sciences is comprehensive.
